RAYMOND A. RYDER IS GUEST SPEAKER

Raymond A. Ryder, president of the Wareham Historical Society, was guest speaker at the June meeting of the Rochester Historical Study Group held at the Snipatuit Pond cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Underhill. Showing movies and slides of the Fearing Tavern in Wareham, Mr. Ryder traced the progress of the Wareham Historical Society's restoration of this most interesting old building, parts of which were built during the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries. The original house, known as the Bump's home, was built prior to 1690 and was later expanded and converted into a tavern by the Fearing famithe necessity of obtaining exterior and interior photographs of some old Rochester homes on which dates and information already have been collected. Shown at the meeting was a large map of Rochester illustrating the old landmarks, ponds and waterways. This map, which was drawn up by Mrs. James Gurney, Mrs. Clifton Vaughan and Mrs. Maurice Gifford, is to be the foundation for other maps which will illustrate the development of Rochester every fifty years since 1700. Members also viewed old postcards, maps, and newspaper articles concerning Rochester history.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Gurney, Mrs. Frederick Underhill, Jr. and Mrs. Donald Jenkins.

FAIR TO BE HELD IN MARION

The largest Fair in its history will be put on Saturday, July 15th, by the Marion Methodist Church. It will be held rain or shine from 10 A.M. to 4 P.M. at the Music Hall on Front Street, Marion.

Fun for the whole family is assured by the various amusements. There will be several games for children, a junk car to test one's strength on, and horse and buggy rides, which are popular with all ages. A new attraction this year is the "dunking stool" from which a victim falls into a large tub of water when the target is hit.

A popular feature in the refreshment department is the quahog chowder luncheon, complete with bowl of chowder, crackers, beverage and homemade pie. A sidewalk cafe will be selling coffee, iced tea, homemade doughnuts, and coffee cake all during the fair. There will also be a hot dog and hamburger wagon, which the MYF is sponsoring. Homemade candy will be available, in addition to a wide variety of home baked food at the baked goods table.

Hundreds of lovely handmade items will be for sale at the many booths. The children's table will feature an unusual assortment of toys, stuffed animals, clothes and accessories. At the Christmas shop one can purchase tree ornaments and holiday decorations and gifts of all kinds. The apron table will offer one of the largest selections of styles and fabrics ever found in that department: Cobbler aprons, party aprons, barbecue aprons, chef's hats, to name only a few, as well as embroidered dish towels and hundreds of pot holders. At the needlework table one can find diverse hand crafted items, such as hand painted stationery, unusual patchwork pictures, embroidered, knitted, crocheted, and hand painted items of all sorts. The Flower Cart will again be selling cut flowers and plants raised by church members for the fair. Bargain hunters will rejoice at the collection of miscellany for sale at the Treasures and Trash table; books, dishes, jewelry (some antique) to name but a few.

A special attraction will be the presence of Ziltha of Wareham, cartoonist by hobby, who will be at the fair from 1-4 in the afternoon to do caricatures of people. This promises to

FRIENDSHIP CIRCLE MEETING

Mrs. Ruth W. Shaw, president, conducted the business meeting of the Hilltop Friendship Circle, following a box luncheon. Members worked on articles for the annual Fair, which will be held August 15th, starting at 11 A.M., in the Sunday School rooms of the Quaker Meeting House.

Mrs. Leila B. Sherman gave the invocation in the absence of the chaplain, Mrs. Marjorie H. Wilson, who is a patient at Taber Nursing Home, New Bedford. A card was signed by members and sent to her. Mrs. Julia Bowman was welcomed back after eye surgery.

The group will be guests for a picnic July 18th at the beach homes of Mrs. Helen Winslow and Mrs. Mary Hammond. If stormy, it will be held July 25th.

It was noted that 18 members recently attended a luncheon and social afternoon as guests of East Fairhaven Ladies' Benevolent Society. Mrs. Marian S. Hatton, first president of the Circle, has moved from Mattapoisett to 18 North Street, Plymouth.

The following will serve on the various tables at the August 15th Fair: Mrs. Lorraine Bryant and Mrs. Helen Winslow, luncheon; Mrs. Minnie Tinkham, Mrs. Leila B. Sherman and Mrs. Mary Hammond, food; Mrs. Emma Walsh and Mrs. Edith Morrell, white elephants; Mrs.

Mr. Abronski succeeds Dr. Lloyd Besant, who will return to his post as director of Business and Special Education at Science Research Associates in Chicago.

Mr. Abronski came to Rodman a year ago from IBM World Trade Corporation to head the Data Processing Department. He was appointed deputy director in April.

Mr. Abronski joined IBM in 1952. In 1963 he was chosen to head an IBM-sponsored Special African Education Project in Ibadan, Nigeria. The two-and-a-half-year project trained 51 African students from Ethiopia, Ghana, Kenya, Liberia, Nigeria and Zambia to become data processing supervisors and operations personnel.

A native of Philadelphia and a graduate of Bucknell University, Mr. Abronski is a World War II Air Force veteran. He and his wife and four children make their home in Marion.

rected to the 40 telephone company information operators at 50 Ocean Street, Hyannis.

More than 7,000 information calls daily come to the operators, with the summer load peaking at 13,000 calls daily. Of these, 2 1/2 percent were asked on subjects other than telephone information.

Hyannis operators recently kept a log of unusual requests. Thought to be expert cooks, detectives, and astronomers, they were asked such things as: "Could you tell me how long to cook a pork chop?" "What time does the moon come out tonight?" "Are the boats unloading fish now?" "Could you tell me when there's a high tide?"

Operators are often called for medical advice: "How do I treat a sick parakeet?" Many people look to operators for feminine guidance. One operator remembers the man who put a lobster in the pot and then called Information. He wanted to know how long to leave it in the

For children, the telephone is a fascinating toy. "As soon as school is out," said one operator, "children start calling. They want us to help them with homework --- mostly with spelling."

"Kids like to talk on the phone," said another operator. "One time a little girl gave me her girl friend's name and said she wanted to talk with her. She didn't know the girl's parents' name or her address. She talked to me a long time and then said 'wait a minute'. After a while she returned. The friend she was trying to call lived next door, so she had gone outside to look at the house number."

People often mistakenly assume that operators are located in the city for which they handle information. Information for all numbers on Cape Cod is handled in Hyannis. But callers dozens of miles away still expect these operators to know the phone number for the "green house across the street from the gas station".

One man dialed information from outside the Cape and was convinced that he had reached his doctor's office. Insisting that the operator was a nurse, he tried to change his medical appointment.

The information switchboard reflects changes in nature, weather, business pressures, etc. Operators sometimes discover situations faster than authorities.

One telephone operator in another part of the state tells of a frantic call from a woman whose dishes toppled mysteriously from the shelf. The operator was soon in touch with Westover Air Force Base where authorities were just discovering an earth tremor.

A somewhat fantastic corollary is the story of another frantic woman who screamed to the information operator, "Quick, quick, call the Air Force, a flying saucer just whizzed by my window".

The Voice with a Smile must keep on smiling even after a call like the following: A subscriber asked if the local art gallery had a phone. Receiving a negative reply, he said, "Would you do me a favor; on your lunch hour, go tell them I would like to reserve a book I saw last week."

There's also the operator who received a call
